BUSINESS BUZZ

SMALL BUSINESS MANAGEMENT. The Small Business Development Centers at both Rogue Community College and Southern Oregon University are taking registrations for fall classes that help small business owners and managers.

In particular, the RCC center is offering the Small Business Management Program, which provides tools, knowledge and support for success with best practices in many aspects of business, including financials, online marketing, improving quality and developing a team of employees.

Class members receive one-on-one advising.

The nine-month program begins Oct. 7 and runs the first Tuesday of each month, 2-5 p.m. each day.
