RCC to Celebrate Expanded Allied Health Training at Redwood Campus Event in GP

Rogue Community College has announced the grand opening of the newly renovated E Building at its Redwood Campus in Grants Pass, which will significantly expand allied health training opportunities in Josephine County.

The August 26th grand opening begins at 10 a.m. outside the E Building on the west side of the RCC Student Center. Following opening remarks and a ribbon-cutting ceremony, guests are invited to explore the newly remodeled building and meet instructors for RCC's Allied Health programs.

Constructed in 1981, the 9,894-square-foot E Building was completely renovated this year to support RCC's growing Allied Health programs. Beginning this fall, the Redwood Campus will offer four healthcare training programs: Dental Assisting, Medical Assisting, Nursing Assistant and Phlebotomy. For several years, most of the school's healthcare professions programs have been offered exclusively at the Table Rock Campus in White City.

The $3.95 million remodel included completely new electrical, plumbing, HVAC and mechanical systems as well as ADA improvements. E Building hosted science classes until 2022 when RCC opened its new Redwood Campus Science Center in the O Building.

The renovation was made possible through $3.615 million in congressional appropriations funding -- secured with the support of US Senators Ron Wyden and Jeff Merkley.

The celebration kicks off a campus-wide open house from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. next Tuesday. The closest parking to the E Building is near the Rogue Auditorium. Take the college's east entrance off Redwood Highway onto Demaray Drive and then follow College Drive to the end.
